

Planting Seeds of Change

Our January Impact

We are pleased to share our first monthly Impact Report with you. Each month we will keep you informed of our most important activities and invite you to join in celebrating our collective achievements.

After 2020 disrupted lives and livelihoods, our country is geared for a reset. From individuals to organizations, we witnessed firsthand the building of bridges to normalcy through human connection and community.

We are thrilled to have re-started our Jr WiseTriber program at SouthTech Preparatory Academy (STP) after the pandemic sidelined it.

During January's Wisdom Exchanges - one with teachers at STP discussing wellbeing and the other with local leaders exploring consciousness - we were struck by the energy and commitment to forging ahead, together.

We are grateful to Hooked on Ponics & Fresh Smoothie King (Delray Green Market vendor), our new partners in food sustainability efforts who helped us increase our impact.

We invite you to join us. Complete the form on our website and a WiseTribe Ambassador will contact you to plug your unique skills into our systems-changing efforts.

We can't wait to see you!

Jacqueline

Events

Food Tech Talk

Friday, February 19, 5-6pm, Zoom

Contribute to a monthly conversation with thinkers and tinkerers on the future of food production education in schools.

This discussion aims to empower local schools and tech-driven volunteers with wisdom and community to implement food growing projects with young minds.
